Tropical island holiday
£6,000

Invest

Invest

For the investment, I would put £50,000 into a 3 year fixed rate bond with net interest of 2.1% per year. The compound interest on this investment would be £3,217 to the nearest pound giving a total investment return of £53,217.

The remaining £10,000 would be put into a stock market linked bond. This is riskier as it depends on how well the stock market does. If it performs well it could return 13.5% at the end of the three years, which would be £1,350 so a total of £11,350. However the stock market could do badly and after the three years I could end up with less than the £10,000 I started with. That's why I would only invest a smaller amount into this option.
