
SEE THE MATHS IN NATURE

more maths grads
multiplying opportunities

Did you know that most flowers have either 3, 5, 8, 13 or 21 petals? In fact the natural world is full of interesting maths. There are lots of mathematicians busy battling with nature or giving her a helping hand. Whether it's predicting avalanche flows or fighting global warming, maths is needed everywhere.

For more information about the More Maths Grads project or for general enquiries please visit:
www.moremathsgrads.org.uk and www.mathscareers.org.uk

Design: info@jamesanthonygraphics.com Reorder: info@pinstripegroup.co.uk - quote 41811